A TRACT ON MONETARY REFORM - Cambridge University Press

So said John Maynard Keynes, born 120 years ago on Wednesday, in one of the most misquoted phrases in economics. It comes from Keynes's Tract on Monetary Reform, from 1923, in a discussion about the economic long and short run. If a factory closes you can say that in the long run its workers will find jobs somewhere else but in the short run there may be considerable unemployment and it was this that Keynes was concerned to tackle.
