Significance satisfies our soul. While the thirst for success is never quenched, significance satisfies our deepest heart and soul. It allows us to lay our head on our pillow each night confident that we lived a valuable and fulfilling day. Unfortunately, many people spend most of their lives chasing financial success.

Stop Chasing Success. Seek Significance.

In "Living a Life of Significance," Dr. Kurt Senske discusses something worth slowing down for: living the life God planned in advance uniquely for you. He'll even help you rediscover the peace and mercy Christ gives you each day. Read also Rev. Hans Fiene's "How to Escape the Christmas Madness."

The Calling: Live a Life of Significance

It's hard to find any meaning and significance in your life if you don't believe in the all-loving God who planned the good life of service for you. It's close to impossible to not be self-centered without faith. And most importantly, with no faith the unexpected turns of life will squeeze you, chew you over, and leave you beaten.
