Would Panasonic rather sell me four TVs over 30-40 years, or one that breaks and then I take my business elsewhere. I am very pro-plama and pro-Panasonic (for now), mainly because of my perception of the quality of the product. Having to throw a $1,300 TV away after three years will obviously impact where my dollars go in the future.

Panasonic RP TVs are an alternative to LCD big screens. The projector lamp works to provide good picture on a big surface. Panasonic RP TV models are good for vintage video gamers. Most of the games developed in the 80s and 90s were created with rear projection in mind, so they work with rear projection TVs. If you have a light gun that you use ...
