Paul Antioch And Jerusalem A

The incident at Antioch was an Apostolic Age dispute between the apostles Paul and Peter which occurred in the city of Antioch around the middle of the first century. The primary source for the incident is Paul's Epistle to the Galatians 2:11-14. Since Ferdinand Christian Baur, biblical scholars have found evidence of conflict among the leaders of early Christianity; for example James D. G. Dunn proposes that Peter was a "bridge-man" between the opposing views of Paul and James the brother ...

Antioch, an important intersecting point for a number of roads, is about 300 miles north of Jerusalem. If travelers averaged 20 miles a day (and various factors would determine the rate of progress), it would take some fifteen days of actual walking. Donkeys would be the preferred "beast of burden." How did people get there?

Antioch to Jerusalem - Bible Odyssey

He sought Saul (later called Paul) in the city of Tarsus and Saul returned with Barnabas to Antioch. Many great things were happening at Antioch and in this city the disciples of Jesus were first called "Christians". While Barnabas and Saul were evangelizing in Antioch certain prophets came down from Jerusalem.

Paul at Antioch of Syria - Paul's First Missionary Journey ...

On this trip Paul introduced himself through Barnabas to the apostles Peter and James and did some preaching in their company. A subsequent trip is mentioned in Acts 11:28-30, in which Paul and Barnabas carried the first relief funds to Jerusalem from Antioch in Syria. A third trip is described in Galatians 2:1-10 and in Acts 15.

Acts 11:27-30 During their year based in Antioch, Barnabas and Paul travel to Jerusalem (see 5 on Map 20), taking a gift from the believers in Antioch for the members of the Jerusalem church who are suffering because of a famine. King Herod Agrippa dies while they are in Jerusalem in 44AD (see Acts 12:19-23).

The Bible Journey | The Gentile Church at Antioch

The Jews and Christians in Syrian Antioch knew Peter and Paul well. Paul claims his ministry was centered in the Cilicia-Syria region for 14 years. It is likely he engaged in mission trips during this time that went west to Asia Minor and Rome (Gal 1:21-2:1). At the same time, Peter's center of ministry long after the first Jerusalem visit. For about a decade Paul is an evangelist of Antioch, preaching the gospel to gentiles in Syria and Cilicia, and working in close association with Barnabas. In due course Paul and Barnabas are sent by Antioch to the conference at Jerusalem, which is in

Paul and Antioch (1)

The Apostle Paul [aka Saul] and Barnabas were both sent to preach to the Gentiles and Jews living there around 47 AD. When the Church in Jerusalem learned of the very favorable response of the Antiochenes to God's Word, they sent Barnabas there to encourage them further.

In responding to these accusations, Paul makes reference to three meetings that he had with Peter: two in Jerusalem and one in Antioch. Even though all of these meetings occur outside of Galatia, it is clear that Paul believes that they have a bearing on the argument that he will make to the Galatians.
