Welsh at the Somme - BBC News

"Mametz Wood" was written in 2005 by British poet Owen Sheers. Mametz is a village in Northern France; the woodland nearby was the site of an especially bloody battle during World War I, in which around 4,000 men from the British Army's Welsh Regiment were killed.

Mametz Wood Poem Summary and Analysis | LitCharts

The poem takes a reflective journey into Mametz Wood, the final resting place of nearly 4000 Welsh soldiers who gave their lives in service to the country, and who, in return, were accused of cowardice (though this accusation was later withdrawn, it soured relations between the commanding officers for quite some time).

38th (Welsh) Infantry Division - Wikipedia

This is a truly excellent contribution to the 38th (Welsh) Division's magnificent contribution during the Battle of the Somme. Told through the experiences of soldiers in the field, and backed by so many photographs identifying individual soldiers and officers, Dr Hicks succeeds in bringing a very human, and much needed, touch to the Division at Mametz Wood.
